M&R has introduced the latest in innovative gas dryers with the new Sprint 3000. The new features include a color touchscreen interface, new high-capacity circulation and exhaust blowers, an integrated roll down out-feed hood, cleanout access panels on the sides of the burner sections and drone modules to simplify cleaning and maintenance, and a retention-time belt speed control that makes it easy to duplicate settings and eliminates the need to convert feet per minute into the time substrates will spend in the heat chamber.

In addition, the Sprint 3000 has job recall. A program that allows storage of job parameters by name. It also has a maintenance Minder that alerts when scheduled maintenance is due.

Available in liquid propane or natural gas versions, all Sprint 3000 dryers utilize exceptionally efficient high-performance burners with ample capacity. Temperature consistency is ensured by a fuzzy-logic controller, which responds by keeping chamber heat within 1 degree of target temperature.

Dryers in the Sprint 3000 line are available in a wide variety of configurations, belt widths and chamber lengths. They have the highest production capacity in their class and are the most energy efficient.

Tech tip: With spring just around the corner. It is time again for spring cleaning. This should include conveyor dryers (inside and out), printing presses, the screen room, the art/sample dept., the ink room, the front lobby (come in the front entrance and take a look around) and finally, the employee refrigerator. It's nice to be clean and tidy. Enjoy!!

SPR will be hosting a Virus Inks workshop on March 25, 26 & 27. The event will include a theoretical introduction of the ink products, live print demos and a Q & A session. Joining us will be some great folks from Virus Inks based in Italy. They will be on hand to discuss their products and techniques and offer support for these amazing products. Class size is limited so reservations are required. To sign up or for more info. Please contact Mike Grey at: mikeg@spresource.com
